

Pam Sheets represents Shenandoah County for the Park Advisory Commission. She is the Director of Parks and Recreation for Shenandoah County. She holds a B.S. from Pennsylvania State University in Recreation and Park Management and an M.Ed. from the University of Georgia in Recreation and Leisure Services with a focus in Public Administration. She has more than fifteen years experience working in the field of parks and recreation and in working with local governments and citizen groups in Massachusetts, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Georgia, and Virginia. She is an active geocacher and most recently is learning about disc golf since Shenandoah County Parks and Recreation installed a new 9-hole course at the county park. She is a member of the Virginia Recreation and Park Society as well as the National Recreation and Park Association. She lives in Winchester.

